AMANDA MORROW
Real Estate Development

Amanda Morrow works with clients and firm attorneys to obtain property entitlements for development projects and manages project consultants through these processes. Some of her duties include reviewing city ordinances, local government codes, legal documents and other property restrictions, obtaining variances, subdivision approvals, site development permits and building permits for various commercial and residential developments, meeting and presenting project specifics to various neighborhood groups, city boards, city commissioners, and council members.

Prior to joining Armbrust & Brown, PLLC in 2005, Amanda was employed by Crocker Consultants for six years where she fulfilled similar duties and other land use related responsibilities.
