

Michael J. Gaudini works with clients and firm attorneys on zoning and land use matters. His responsibilities include: navigating city requirements and processes, managing zoning cases, permits, and other site development approvals, performing due diligence and site analysis, and engaging with stakeholders (such as neighborhood associations, advocates, and policymakers).

Michael joined Armbrust & Brown, PLLC in 2019, bringing extensive public sector experience from his previous positions of Policy Advisor for an Austin City Council Member, Legislative Director and Policy Analyst in the Texas House of Representatives, and Intern in the Austin City Auditor's Office.

Education

Temple University – 2011 – B.A. (Journalism), Graduated First in Class in Journalism Department

The University of Texas at Austin, LBJ School of Public Affairs – 2014 – MPAff (Public Affairs)